

First Baptist Friendswood Ministry Opportunities

Ministry Teams offer an opportunity for your passions to translate into meaningful actions. You are not elected, or appointed to any ministry team, you simply become involved. When you choose to become active with a ministry team it is only for as long as you choose to be active. No one will stand over you and make you do something that Father hasn't given you a passion for doing. So look over the teams that currently exist and find a place to get involved.
